

SOCIETY

(Continued from Page 3.)

out as planned and each school's presentation was a success.

Programs with queens, attendants, dances, and musical numbers, were orders of the day.

Estella Wilson was "Queen of May" for Grant school and her attendants were Grace Emich, Annie Tade, Nellie Jefferson, Beatrice Burton, Lavina Anderson and Edith McFarland. The entertaining program was: March and Crowning of Queen; Quartet, "Spring Song"; Wreath Drill, first grade; Fairy Drill, second and third grades; Winding the May-Pole, third, fourth and fifth grades; Wand Drill, boys of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades; May-Pole Dance, girls of seventh and eighth grades.

At the Garfield school, pupils met on the lawn, where Donald Edmundson crowned pretty Emily Brown queen of the May Day sports. Her maids of honor were Jennelle Vandervort, Frances Ward, Constance Yantis and Lavina Buirgy, and her flower girls, Louise Herren, Edwina Baker, Thelma Martin and Helen Roberts. There were drills, and music, and the May-Pole Dance, which was given most gracefully by Helen Ross, Kathryn Slade, Letha Driscoll, Grace Farrar, Mary Jane Albert, Irene Platt, Helen Hunt, Grace Hunt, Muriel Steeves, Vanessa Case, Esther Sun, Wilhelmina Smith, Isabella George, Catherine Barhyte and Beatrice Dilly.

Delightful entertainment were the evolutions of a pretty wreath drill by Vera Dilly, Essie Prime, Alice Casto, Louise Platt, Eva Jolly, Blanch Baker, Anna Huie, Anna Berndorf, Myrtle White, Helen Loomis, Jessie Moody, Annetta Bartlett, Emily Phillips, Edyth Bynon, Helen Smith, Althea Eache, Alice Rudling, Deborah Maag, Essie Lindley and Ida Anderson, and very picturesque was the dainty wand drill in costumes of blue shirts and white blouses. For this feature of the celebration were chosen Maxine Buren, Helen West, Florence Young, Rita Phillips, Lucile Moore, Doris Marsh, Lois Jory, Winifred Rinehart, Rose Henke, Margaret Livesley, Helen Corey, Margaret McMahon Hazel Bugher, Carolyn East, Thelma Rocab, Hulda Maag, Thelma Young, Eva Carey, Hilda Tillinghaast, Josephine Baumgartner, Alice Putnam, Beatrice Blinn, Florence Cartwright, Marion Emmons and Lorraine Parsons.

The East school festivities were merrily carried out. After the procession from the school building, Principal J. P. Axley crowned Hallie Hinges, Queen of May. The lovely queen wore a dainty robe of pale pink, garnished with flowers; her crown was woven of bridal wreath and pink flowering almond. All this suggested the olden time English "Queen of the May." Her throne, under a great maple tree, was decorated with ivy and American flags. Valeria Briggs carried the crown. Frances Dick and Margaret Wheelock were train bearer and flower girl. The queen's maids of honor were Margaret Wann and Alice Schindler, and her attendants, Myrtle Richardson, Leta Bond, Myrtle Swaboda, Edna Newberry, Mary Berger, Estella Standifer, Junita De Vos, Alta White, Leona Propp, Mary Talmadge, Lilly Demogolla, Florence Conroe, Hazel Larson, Alice Chalcraft and Eleanor Tate.

The piano was placed on the lawn and Miss Ruth Schultz played for the May-Pole dance, which was beautifully given by the seventh and eighth grade pupils of Miss Mabel Wilson and Miss Mabel Robertson.

Quite the largest and most joyful of the university's May Day festivities was last Thursday's, when Willamette students carried out with great success an elaborate program. The day began with a delightful breakfast under direction of Miss Lottie Penn, Miss Gertrude Reeves, Miss Helen Westall, Miss Lucile Kuntz and Miss Leona McQueen, and served by Miss Beryl Holt, Miss Hazel Smith, Miss Hulda Beckley, Miss Mildred Bartholomew, Miss Kate Barton, Miss Aetna Emmel, Miss Ermine Harding, Miss Lulu Wiseman, Miss Lelia Lent and Miss Mary Hansen. Assisting in preparing the breakfast were Miss Alice Fields, Miss Clara Schnasse, Miss Laura Heist, Miss Gertrude Eakin, Miss Mave Lovelace, Miss Jessie Young, Miss Lina Heist, Miss Leona McQueen, Miss Stella Chappell, Miss Ruth Hodge, Miss Lulu Heist, Miss Eva Hogue, Carl Hollingworth, Harry Rice, Foster Luce, George Vandeventer, Paul Homan, Ivan McDaniel, Bruce McDaniel, Ralph Stearns, Eric Holt, Harold Jory, Charles Ohling and Tinkham Gilbert.

Work on athletic grounds and tennis filled the morning hours, until Miss Kuhuke, Miss Ludi, Miss Kate Barton, Miss Valda Hoxie, Miss Lina Heist, Miss Ruth Boyer, Miss Aggie Alfred, Eric Holt, and William Schreiber served dinner on the lawn near Lanesanne hall.

Following the bountiful dinner enjoyed by the student body, the royal procession formed in Eaton hall, and was led by the dancing girls in frocks of white and of green, who formed an aisle for the procession to pass through. Preceding the queen were Ivan McDaniel and Glen McCadham, heralds. Miss Ada Mark, as queen, was lovely in her gorgeous robe. Little Louise Patterson and a small boy, Donald Allison, bore her court train, and Vera Babcock carried the crown on a pillow.

Catherine Homan, Rosaline Van Winkle, Clark Walsh and Monroe Sweetland were flower bearers. Miss Gertrude Reeves and Miss Lulu Heist were the queen's ladies in waiting.

The singers closing the procession were drilled under Dean Frederic S. Mendenhall, and in the chorus were Miss Mona Shumway, Miss Lelia McCadham, Miss Pearl Bradley, Miss Hazel Smith, Miss Mabel Goyno, Miss Electa Chapman, Miss Jessie Young, Miss Ava McMahon, Miss Emma Loughridge, Miss Stella Graham, Miss Annie Ryan, Miss Ruth Boyer, Messrs. Barnes, Booth, Botwell, Pfaff, Lund, C. Hall, Gilkey, P. Irvine, Clark, Manning, Jory and Marsh.

When the queen was seated upon her throne with attendants about her, the chorus sang "God Save the Queen," and Robert Christie Walsh, in the robe of archbishop, crowned the Queen of May, after a short speech.

The queen's address aroused great enthusiasm among her subjects. While the orchestra played dance music, twenty young women tread the intricate steps in winding the streamers about the May-Pole. The graceful dancers were Miss Carrie Cooksey, Miss Junia Todd, Miss Ruth Young, Miss Lucile Kuntz, Miss Eleanor Ruby, Miss Grace Thompson, Miss Daisy Mulkey, Miss Mave Lovelace, Miss Lillian Manu, Miss Ermine Harding, Miss Beryl Holt, Miss Helen Goltz, Miss Lois Ashby, Miss Aileen Ambrose, Miss Ruth Owens, Miss Margaret Poisel, Miss Ruth Winters, Miss Mary Pigler, and Miss Helen Westall.

The excellent music was furnished by Miss Leona McQueen, pianist; Miss Lucile McCulley and Arthur Hoffman, violinists; Paul Irvine, clarinetist; C. R. Van Slyke, trombone; Lloyd Schistler, cornetist.

Willamette senior class day will be celebrated beautifully this year about the middle of June.

The bright particular attraction will be a masque, "The Mill Race Court," written by Miss Pennington, instructor of English literature in the university.

For the benefit of those to whom the expression is unintelligible it will not be out of place to explain the word "masque," used in this instance, is allegorical in meaning and adapts itself to playing and pretty dressing of people whom we know. The characters will be taken by Willamette students. "The Lord of the Mill Stream Court" will be presented on the lawn east of the university, where great oak trees, the rushing stream and a broad expanse of velvet green will make an ideal setting.

The cast of characters for Miss Pennington's masque is: Lord of the Mill Stream Court, William Schreiber; Knight of Life, Ray Smith; Beauty, Lulu Heist; Love, Gertrude Reeves; Knowledge, Lina Heist; Trust, Jessie Young; Goddess of Youth, Ada Mark; Spirit of Willamette, Sadie Boughey; Naida, Nymph of the Mill Stream, Pearl Bradley; But a Courtier, Carl Hollingworth; Supposed Son Toil, Kenneth Mickey; Court Attendants, Oliver Matthews and Laurence Gardiner.

Very elaborate and most successful was the May Day celebration at Yew Park school. Seats were provided for the five hundred spectators. Richmond school attended in a body, accompanied by their teachers. The program opened with first and second primary grade children in a dainty milk maid and overall boy-drill in costume, arranged by Miss Fugate and Miss Walker. The third grade pupils, under direction of Miss Childers, presented a delightful patriotic drill with flags. Miss Cornelius's pupils of fourth grade gave a fairy-like drill with wands. The fifth grade pupils in appropriate costumes danced charmingly the Highland fling. The pretty red, white and blue scarf drill with its central figure draped in "Old Glory" was enthusiastically received. Mrs. Clark's eighth grade gave a charming floral dance.

Mr. U. S. Dotson, principal of the school, delighted the audience with his boys' drill in Indian costumes; tomahawks, feathers and blankets made very realistic red men.

The exercises closed with wrapping two May-poles, the older girls winding the larger one and the small children dancing the streamers of the other. The remainder of the afternoon was given over to eighth grade athletics, Earl Dimmick carrying off the greatest number of honors. Superintendent Kuntz expressed the greatest pleasure in attending the Yew Park celebrations.

With few exceptions, the two hundred pupils attending Eaglewood school took part in the May day exercises Thursday. The queen, Jessie Sweet, was crowned by her maid of honor, the ceremony taking place under a canopy of May-pole streamers held by the ladies in waiting. Accompanied by her maids of honor, Alethea Anderson and Ruth Kantelbury, the ladies in waiting, flower girls and pages, the May Queen was escorted to her throne, a bower of greenery and blossoms, the little flower girls scattering petals in her pathway, while the school children sang "Welcome, Sweet Springtime."

For the pleasure of the queen, her subjects presented this program: Grand March, by the school; Crowning of Queen under the May-pole; Song, "Welcome, Sweet Springtime"; Milkmaid's Revel, by pupils in Miss Martin's room; Wand Drill, by the boys from Miss Pohle's and Mr. Luthy's rooms; Minuet, presented in costumes of Louis fourteenth period, by sixteen girls and boys from Miss Ehmer's and Mr. Luthy's rooms; Indians, by pupils from Mrs. Menane's room, Kenneth Zell, chief, all in costume with blankets and feathers; May-pole Dance, by thirty-two girls from Miss Pohle's, Mrs. Ehmer's and Mr. Luthy's rooms (the dance was given in costumes matching the May-pole ribbons); Shoe-makers' Dance and See-Saw Waltz, by pupils from Miss Hayes' and Miss Hazelton's rooms. The program was heartily applauded and most thoroughly enjoyed.

By request the Indians repeated their performance at its close. Great credit is due Mrs. Wheelock, the music supervisor, for her assistance in making the affair a success.

On Saturday afternoon, April twenty-sixth, little Miss Ethelwynne Kelley entertained a large number of her friends, complimenting her sixth birthday. The afternoon passed with games and a dainty luncheon. Thirty little girls were bidden to this party, and with few exceptions, all were there to enjoy the merry afternoon, accompanied by their mothers.

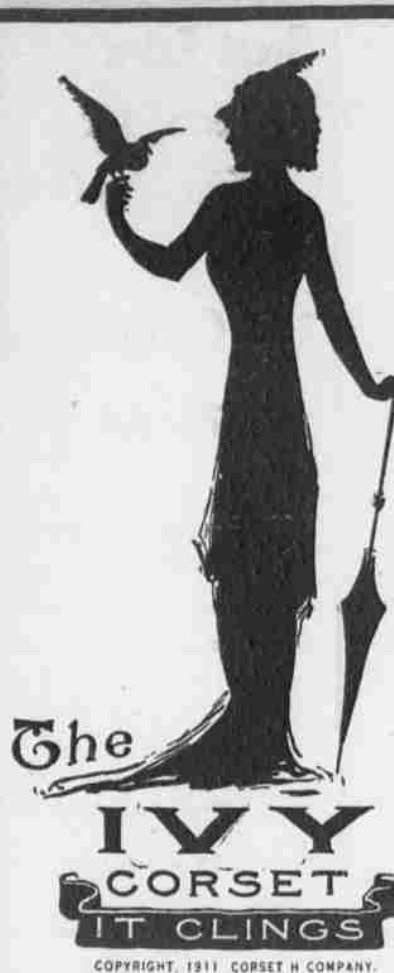

Ethelwynne's little guests were: Rosena Eyre, Maxine Glover, Luella and Leolyn Barnett, Dorothy Tweedale, Ruth Davidson, Beatrice and Helen Babcock, Flossie Flamingham, Edith Jenks, Nana Ling, Claudine Hart, Dorothy Copley, Bertha Ann, Juanita Bullock, Marvin and Kenneth Roth, Roy Morris, Alvin Burton, Edna Foster, Howard Baker, Charles Roth, Don Snyder, Holges Ling, Malcolm Graber, Harry Marshall and Otto Albers.

For the high school junior class day entertainment, Miss Rigdon, of the English department is directing the rehearsals of a playette, "Dramatic Evening," in which the students will take part. Chosen for the characters are: Miss Perkins, Miss Helen Dekebach, Mrs. Bradley, Miss Nanelle Bloom; Robert Yandley, Allen Bynon, John Barlow, Lloyd Holdiman.

SOCIAL CLUBS.

The young matrons and maids making up the Kensington club, who, for the past three seasons, have enjoyed in congenial companionship their afternoons of needlework, met with Mrs. Robert M. Hofer last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oswald West entertained their card club, the Nemo, Friday evening of last week. High scores gave Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner

..Fisk Hats..

New shipment of the Faultless Fisk Hats just received. Included in this fine lot are Fancy Blocked Shapes, in Panamas and Leghorns, also 4 extreme new pattern hats for opera wear.....

ASK TO SEE THE NEW FISK HATS

All Ladies' Suits Greatly Reduced.

MRS. P. E. FULLERTON

Suits, Coats and Millinery
IVY CORSETS

270 N. Commercial St.

the favors. The game was played at seven tables and the evening was entirely informal.

Mrs. Marguerite Lennan entertained the members of Silver Thimble club Wednesday in her home at Third and Washington street. During the afternoon of sociability and sewing Miss Myrtle Lennan gave pleasure with piano numbers. Mrs. J. C. McIntyre and Mrs. May Culver assisted with serving luncheon. The club members enjoying Mrs. Lennan's hospitality were Mesdames Hattie Kennon, Mary Nayhart, Anna Miller, Edna Fandrich, Nina Olmstead, Mary Case, Rena Hopt, Anna Bernhart, Elsie Matlock, Bertha Radcliffe, Hattie Cameron, Mrs. King and Mrs. Jones. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Nayhart's home.

Mrs. W. D. Sommerville and Mrs. G. H. Sellers were joint hostesses with a social evening of card games and music, Wednesday evening, for the Pythian Sisters and their husbands, in Mrs. Sommerville's home on South High street. Miss Alice Shennanen, Mrs. Sommerville's sister from Portland, helped serve the lovely luncheon, and guests for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Haller, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Husselman, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hoffmior, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Olmstead, Mrs. St. Helens, Mrs. O. G. Shellberg, Mrs. Sarah Stinson, Mrs. Ross Moores, Mrs. James, Mrs. Purdy, Mrs. Barbee, Miss Hazel Olmstead, Miss Alice Shennanen and Mr. J. W. Porter.

Mrs. Seymour Skiff was hostess last week Friday afternoon for the young women who formed a sewing club at the beginning of the social season and later changed into bridge. The members are diligently working to become proficient in the game. Mrs. George Arenz was additional guest.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY CLUB NOTES

On last week Friday afternoon the members of Adelante literary society enjoyed the second of a series of programs on art. The first contained biographies of famous musicians, and selections from Beethoven and Mendelssohn. Friday, the twenty-fifth, was given to Shakespearean sonnets, a comparison of the bird poems of Keats and Shelley, and a review of the works of Burns and of his life.

The Websterian literary society gave an interesting program last week, when Paul Todd entertained with classical selections. Harry Rice read a paper on "Wages and Crime." Howard Jewett gave "Current Events in Washington, D. C." William Schreiber spoke of "Friendships in College." Lester Proebstel told of "My Friendships in Europe."

After the program an election was held, with the following officers elected for the term: president, Ralph Stearns; vice-president, Lester Proebstel; treasurer, Ben Neustel; recording secretary, Maxwell Ball; corresponding secretary, Harry Rice; marshal, Olive Matthews; critic, Jacob Stocker.

On the evening of the same day the Criterion literary society gave a short program after roll call had been answered. Mr. Gates' impromptu speech opened the entertainment, and was followed by a debate, in which the affirmative won. Practice was read in parliamentary laws by Mr. Forbes. A visitor for the evening was Mr. Hanson of the Philodorian society.

The program of entertainment for the Philodorian last week was a talk by Miss Annie Naddon, on the art collection of Pierpont Morgan, which is considered to be one of the finest private collections in the world. Miss Ruth Owen spoke of American painters. The music was furnished by Miss Ava McMahon and Miss Leona McQueen, and a vocal solo by Miss Stella Graham.

On Friday night of last week there was merry-making in halls of the Websterian-Adelante societies, when a large crowd of sophomores and freshmen gathered for an evening of sport. Most unusual were the surroundings and decorations and far from the beaten track was the program arranged for the affair. The very informal entertainment was a jollification, rounded out with a luncheon. The guests were the Misses Genevieve Avison, Ruth Boyer, Olin

Clark, Aetna Emmel, Nellie Gleiser, Inez Goltz, Mable Goyno, Ermine Harding, Bees Hockett, Ruth Hodge, Eva, Hodge, Beryl Holt, Lucile Kuntz, Edith Lornsten, Gladys Luthy, Ida Manny, Margaret Deering, Leona McQueen, Elma Ohling, Ruth Owens, Margaret Poisel, Laura Ross, Ada Ross, Annie Ryan, Lela Slater, Hazel Smith, Mabel St. Pierre, Beatrice Thompson, Helen Westall, Laura Wells, Edna Weseman, Ruth Winters, Eleanor Ruby, J. R. Bain, Maxwell Ball, Nona Bennett, Charles Betts, James Corps, John Gilbert, Walter Gleiser, Howard Hager, Charles Hall, Howard Jowett, Willis Luce, Oscar Lund, Fred McMillen, George Odgers, Charles Ohling, Herman Oppenlander, R. L. Pfaff, Hugh Price, Howard Ransom, Harry Rice,

(Continued on page 8.)

A FEW SPECIALS

AT THE Price Shoe Company's Closing Out Sale

500 pairs of men's outing colors, green and black, now go at $1.95.

Big line ladies' suedes and new buck shoes, in black and brown, just received in $5.50 and $6.00 grades, go at $3.95.

Suede and new buck pumps and strap slippers in all styles go at $3.35 and $3.95.

Hundreds of pairs of children's shoes and slippers go at 95c and 50c.

Men's Nettleton, J. E. Tilt, Churchill & Alden, Johnson & Murphy Shoes in $5.00 and $6.00 grades go at $1.95.

The Small Profit and Quick Sales Store

326 State Street
Phone 616

Next to Ladd & Bush Bank

A Beautiful Assortment of the latest effects in Wall Paper

Will be found on our third floor. Our suggestions will aid you in solving your decoration problems.

Buren & Hamilton
COMPLETE HOUSE FURNISHERS